Blue Ribbon Design

CHARLES HILTON ARCHITECTS is no stranger to trophies. Hilton and his team swept the competition at this year's Home Building Industry (HOBBI) Awards. Three of Hilton's impeccable projects nabbed ten separate HOBBI awards, which are bestowed for excellence in home design, construction, home technology and community service. A favorite project of the evening was Hilton's new slate and stucco Colonial guesthouse—the same stunner that landed a finalist spot in the Traditional Architecture Less Than 7,000 Square Feet category at last year's A-List Awards. The project won Best Out of State Custom Home, Best Outdoor Living Environment and Best Outdoor Feature for its outdoor fireplace. Another project, a gardener's cottage in Greenwich with imported French plaster walls, won the Best Residential Remodel $2-3 million category. But the evening's biggest hit was a residence in Greenwich, crafted by Hilton's team to look like an old French manor barn. The French Normandy masterpiece snagged a grand total of seven awards, including Best Custom Home 6,000-7,000 Square Feet, and the Custom Home of the Year and "Project of the Year" grand prizes. —Nathan Tavares

EARTHLY DELIGHTS

Local Greenwich firm Doyle Herman Design Associates is known around the world for its bold landscape design. This month, you have the chance to hear them discuss their innovative work and new book THE LANDSCAPE DESIGNS OF DOYLE HERMAN DESIGN ASSOCIATES.

Their work pays close attention to architecture and site and has a sense of restraint and purpose. The firm has completed projects throughout the United States and abroad. James Doyle serves on the Architectural Review Committee for the town of Greenwich, and Kathryn Herman has served on the national board for the Institute of Classical Architecture & Art since 2007. Herman and Doyle have been recognized with many awards for their landscapes, including three Palladio Awards.

POSITIVELY RADIANT

Emerald is so last year. For 2014, it's all about Radiant Orchid, a vibrant purple shade which Pantone has chosen for its color of the year. Leatrice Eiseman, executive director of the Pantone Color Institute, describes it as "an invitation to innovation" that "encourages expanded creativity and originality." Complementary neutral shades include olive, gray and beige.
