

New England HOME

Connecticut

Celebrating Fine Design,
Architecture, and Building

Exquisite Blend

Sumptuous
Designs For Easy Living

Kitchens
You'll Love

Low-Key Luxe
In Darien

The Enduring
Charm Of Traditional Style

PLUS:
DESIGN FINDS DRENCHED IN SUMMER COLOR

Summer 2014

$5.95US $6.95CAN

43

Display until October 20, 2014
NEHOMEMAG.COM

We all remember the powerful and moving "Towers of Light" memorial that pierced the sky on the site that had once held the twin towers of the World Trade Center. To honor the thirty-two people with ties to Greenwich who died in the attacks of September 11, 2001, the town plans to open and dedicate a September 11th memorial early next year. Designed by CHARLES HILTON ARCHITECTS, the new memorial uses glass towers to represent those beams of light, capturing their spirit in permanent form. The memorial will stand in a new Cos Cob park designed by DOYLE HERMAN DESIGN ASSOCIATES. To find out how you can help with the project, call David Rabin. Greenwich, (203) 253-1192, sept11memorialgreenwich.org

After several fun and successful years as a partner in La Grange de Silvermine, Sybille Campbell has branched off on her own to form LA GRANGE DE S., an interior-design boutique and online shop. Campbell specializes in refurbishing furniture, and also offers design consulting and staging services. And her new online boutique offers a wide range of furniture, art, accessories, and more for the home. New Canaan, (917) 678-3861, lagrangeds.com

Greenwich's historic post office, a neoclassical beauty built in 1917, has a new life as the home of Restoration Hardware's RH GREENWICH gallery. Architect Frank J. Prial Jr., an associate partner at Beyer Blinder Belle Architects & Planners, a firm with offices in New York City and Washington, D.C., spearheaded the renovation and conversion of the lovely old building. The building's exterior has been completely restored, while the interior has been re-imagined and a second-story conservatory and rooftop park have been added. Even the old loading dock has been reconceived, now serving as a garden courtyard and entrance. Greenwich, (203) 552-1040, restorationhardware.com

New in Darien is POST MODERN HOME, a retail shop opened by former adman Drew Clark. A collaborative of artisans who specialize in lacquered furniture and restoration serves as the in-house supply chain for the 5,000-square-foot showroom filled with vintage pieces that have been restored. Clark's own apt description of his place? "Cool stuff nobody else has." Darien, (203) 202-9647, postmodernhome.com

If anyone is qualified to teach us how to decorate our homes with abandon, it's SUSANNA SALK. The creative and prolific interior designer and author is at it again in her latest book, Decorate Fearlessly: Using Whimsy, Confidence, and a Dash of Surprise to Create Deeply Personal Spaces. Salk, whose own home in Roxbury was featured in New England Home last fall, believes it's important to have a solid foundation in design—from traditional to bohemian—but it's self-expression that moves her. This book celebrates the element of surprise in some of her favorite designers' rooms. It's both beautiful and personal. $45, through Rizzoli, rizzoliusa.com